Poetry.

To a Young Physician.

BY JOHN G. WHITTIER.

The paths of pain are thine. Go forth
With healing and with hope;
The suffering of a sin-sick earth
Shall give thee ample scope.

Smite down the dragons, fell and strong,
Whose breath is fever fire:
No knight of fable or of song
Encountered foes more dire.

The holiest task by heaven decreed,
An errand all divine,
The burden of our mortal need
To render less, in thine.

No crusade thine for cross or grave,
But for the living man.
Go forth to succor and to save
All that thy skilled hands can.

Before the unveiled mysteries
Of life and death, go stand
With guarded lips and reverent eyes,
And pure of heart and hand.

So shalt thou be with power endued
From him who went about
The Syrian hill-paths, doing good
And casting devils out.

That holy helper liveth yet,
Thy friend and guide to be;
The healer by Genesaret
Shall walk the rounds with thee?

Selected Story.

My Friend the Captain.

"Kitty, let me look at that ring, and in the name of all that is nousensical, what is it doing on your finger? You have known MacDonald just one week and are wearing his ring already. It does seem to me that you have reached an age now when a little more discretion might be looked for."

"Eighteen last month, Tom," was my sister's saucy rejoinder: "too old to play with dolls, you see, and not quite old enough to take to parrots and heavy teas. So what can I do but flirt?" Indeed, how any one can help flirting in such an atmosphere as this," continued Kitty, stepping out upon the flowered decked balcony, "is a marvel and mystery to me. Why, the very flowers are coquetting with the sun, and opening their bright eyes in answer to his burning glance, only to close them again as soon as his rays are withdrawn. One ought to be a bivalve or a fossil to suit your ideas, Tom."

We were waiting for breakfast my sister and I, in the saloon of our charming apartment on the Kisselef-Strasse, Homburg, at the season when that fairest and wickedest of watering-places puts on her most becoming attire, and displays such varying charms, and throws out such toils and nets to entrap unguarded youth, as must inevitably make one in love with wickedness forevermore.

We have been wintering in Rome, and had journeyed slowly northwards, after the much overrated festivities of Easter week were fairly at an end, until we reached Dresden, where I had rather shabbily turned my back upon the family circle, and started on a pedestrian tour through the so-called Saxon Switzerland and up to Rhineland, with the understanding that I was to resume my complicated role of protector, coufier, and duenna at Homburg, when my six weeks' "leave" should have expired.

I needed the change and relaxation badly; for, truth to say, my family cares, consisting as they did of a maiden aunt, a younger brother, and a very troublesome, pretty, and coquettish sister, had weighed heavily upon my nerves and spirits during the Roman campaign just ended.

She was the pride of my life and the darling of my heart, this little orphan sister, and had been voted unanimously the sprightliest, wickedest, most captivating girl who had graced the Papal Court that winter; and yet I never knew one hour's peace of mind when I had her under my care.

Bright, witty thoroughly well-bred and self-possessed, and with a capability for taking care of herself, and rigidly enforcing the law of "so far shalt thou go, and no farther," which is the saving clause of an American girl's creed at the present day, Kitty was yet possessed with a demon of flirtation, which not all the saints in Christendom could exorcise.

I know that under all her froth and folly she kept hidden away, quite out of anybody's sight, the warmest truest little heart that ever beat; and still she would outrage decorum and trample on conventionalities in a way that sent Englsih spring chickens shuddering to the maternal wing, and our own poor Aunt Mary and myself to the verge of madness.

With a figure so mignonne that it would have been insignificant but for its perfect symmetery and grace, a foot that the "heathen Chinee" would fall down and worship, and a head so daintily set upon her shoulders that every turn of it was a study, Kitty went singing and dancing over the rough places of existence, very much after the fashion of the mountain brook, which makes all the noise it pleases, and lures every passer-by to listen to its voice in spite of the grim precipices and overhanging crags which have been frowning sternly upon it since the beginning of the world.

Her lovers were as the sands of the seashore for multitude, and it made little difference to Kitty whether they claimed nationality with England, France, Spain, or Italy. She would chatter to each in his own language, and smile, coquet, and bedevil them until they were her abject slaves.

Just now, she was deep in an "affair" with an intimate friend of my own, a young Scotchman, whom I had met on my bachelor excursion, and had presented to Kitty, with a malicious and, as it turned out, most mistaken confidence that he would be proof against all her arts.

We had met in a rickety "einspanner," which had given me a lift during my progress through the Odenwald; and attracted by his easy, gentlemanly ways, and familiarity with the whole beautiful district through which I was walking, we had soon got upon intimate terms, and had made the whole journey to Homburg together.

I learned from his own lips that he was an officer in the Ninety-third Highlanders, the regiment which had become so famous in poetry and romance by its timely deliverance of the perishing garrison of Lucknow during the Indian mutiny, and many and harrowing were the tales that he told me of the ghastly massacre at Cawnpore, and of the outrages committed there.

Altogether I had found him a genial, jolly, well-in-formed "compagon de voyage," and had taken all the responsibility on my own shoulders of introducing him to my sister, and all our particular "set" in Homburg.

Certainly I had not anticipated that he would prove such an easy victim to Kitty's wiles; and the sight of a very costly and peculiar signet ring that he wore on Kitty's finger had first opened my eyes to the rapid progress of their acquaintance.

"Well there is no reason why we should not have our breakfast any way," continued my sister, after glancing impatiently up and down the street, under cover of inhaling the perfume of the heliotrope and mignonnette which bloomed on the beleony.

"I can't flirt with the teacups, so you can lay aside your admonitory looks for at least an hour, Tom. Ah! here comes Jack; that's a relief, at any rate," she said, as our rough-headed, loud-voiced, and utterly unmanageable younger brother lounged into the room. "What makes you so late? and where is Aunt Mary, Jack" she asked as she stooped to give him a very emphatic and resounding kiss.

"Dyspeptic this morning, which means cross" replied Jack solemnly. "Also, it's Sunday, and she's doing the regulation amount of groaning over the sins and offences of this heathen place. So you'd better send her up all the delicacies of the season, and be careful not to notice when the tray comes down that she has eaten them all up."

"Hallo! what's the matter with you, Brother Tom?" he continued turning sharply round upon me with the perverse and provoking abruptness which seems inseparable from half-grown boys. "Been giving Kit another lecture I suppose, and captured her last trophy, I see," glancing at the ring which lay beside me on the table. "It's a perfectly hopeless undertaking, my dear fellow," he added with a patronizing air; "you might as well try to prevent the cat from mewing, or the dog from barking, as to cure Kit of flirting. As the little hymn, which I never would learn, say, "It is her nature to," and to say that she delights in it above everything else under the sun is putting it very mildly indeed."

"You'll be good enough to finish your breakfast immediately, Jack," I remarked in a very stern, elder brother tone, "and leave Kitty and myself for a while. No nonsense now. Be off with you. Sharp's the word."

"It really is too bad of you, Kitty," I continued as the door closed upon Jack, "to flirt with Captain MacDonald so desperately. Do you know that Frank Wilton may be expected any day? I have a letter from him this morning, dated London."

"It really is too bad of Frank," pouted Kitty, "to come so soon. He promised me a year, and the year's not out till the 29th. I'm a great mind not to speak to him when he does come."

"Kitty," I said in my gravest tone, "do you mean to marry Frank Wilton."

"I don't know. I suppose I do," said Kitty crossly. "I don't want to much, but you've all been telling me I'm engaged to him since I was fifteen years old, and I've been brought up to think it was rude to contradict my elders. But it's very tiresome of him to come just now, for I like Captain MacDonal so much; and as he's your friend, Tom," she added, giving me a sly glance from under her long eyelashes, "I'm doing my best to be civil to him for your sake."

I smiled, and the next moment the little arms were tight around my neck, and Kitty's check pressed close against my own. It had ended, as our contests always did, in my being completely worsted and beaten off the field.

"Well, little one," I said as soon as I was permitted to speak, "don't carry your civility too far, that's all. This ring," I added, as I held it up to the light and looked through the magnificent ruby to decipher the motto and device that were engraved upon it, "is far too costly and conspicuous to be seen on your finger. Give it back to MacDonald today, and recollect, Kitty, that I know very little of this new friend, and would rather not see my sister on too familiar terms with him. And now I'm going out for a stroll, and you had better make dutiful inquiries into the nature of Aunt Mary's dyspepsia——"

"And get another lecture on my evil ways," said Kitty as she pirouetted out of the room.

II.

From that time for more than three weeks we went on in the regular routine of Homburg life. "Brunnen" of nauseous flavor in the morning; the gardens, with excellent music and crowds of gay promenaders in the afternoon; and the Kursaal, with your little ventures on the rouge-et-noir, for evening diversion.

Frank Wilton, for some unexplained reason, lingered in London, and Kitty's flirtation with Captain MacDonold was the talk of the whole English and American clique in Homburg.

Aunt Mary took her to bed in a chronic state of dyspepsia, and left me to bear the whole burden and heat of the day.

"It was no use talking to Kitty," as Jack said; wherever she appeared MacDonald was her shadow—always unexceptionable in manner and appearaance, always deferential to my aunt, and the prince of good fellows with me, but assuming a quiet air of proprietorship in my sister which roused Jack's fiercest indignation, and occasioned no end of disquietude to myself.

At last my misery culminated in a formal proposal from Captain MacDonald for Kitty's hand, and the same day Frank Wilton arrived. It was an immense relief to see Frank's honest face and feel the friendly grip of his hand once more; but I soon discovered that, for any influence he was likely to exert over my sister's destiny, he might as well have remained where he was.

Kitty looked her prettiest and smiled her winsomest, and played off her whole retinue of adorers against him with a skill and grace worthy of a better cause; but Frank met her with an unconsciousness and indifference that completely routed her at her own game.

Every particle of his early love seemed to have died out of his heart, and I made up my mind before he had been twelve hours in the place that I could put no reasonable obstacle in the way of the Captain's suit should Kitty please to smile upon it.

I had requested, however, a few days' grace from him, wherein to make further inquirers, and to talk the matter over with my sister; and it was with a very heavy heart that I prepared myself to give her to a stranger, and to consign myself to a lifetime of loneliness without her.

It was the morning after Frank's arrival, and again a Sunday, that we sat in that same saloon where my story opened—Frank Wilton, MacDonald, and myself—smoking our matutinal cigar, Kitty having just left us, and Jack occupied in whittling and whistling "Ten little Indians" very softly to himself at a distant window.

"Will you allow me to look at your ring, Captain MacDonald?" said Frank in one of the pauses of the conversation, "it is a very curious ring, and I fancy I have seen one like it before."

"Ah," said MacDonald quietly, as he slipped the ring off his finger and handed it to my friend. "It has been in our family many hundred years; and I can tell you a very curious story connected with it. At the massacre of Cawnpore that ring——"

"Eight Little Indians on their way to heaven; One got there first—then there were seven," chanted Jack from the other end of the room.

I gave Jack a withering look, which meant "leave the room," but which, "not seeing it exactly in that light," the graceless boy took no notice of whatever.

"Ah, you were at Cawnpore, then?" said Frank, rising as he spoke, and taking a seat directly opposite the Captain.

"Certainly I was," replied MacDonald, with an air of surprise. "The Ninety-third were on active service during the whole time of the mutiny. We relieved the garrison of Lucknow, and were the first to enter Cawnpore after the frightful massacre. I can scarcely think of it now with any composure, Mr. Wilton; the mutilated remains of women and children—the blood ankle-deep—it makes my hair stand on end to speak of it."

A strange look came over Frank Wilton's face, and he fixed his steel blue eyes upon MacDonald with an expression that curdled the blood in my viens, and caused me to spring to my feet and approach nearer to them both. Then he said slowly and deliberately:

"Sir, you are a liar and an impostor! You have never been in India; or if you have, you held no honorable position there. Captain MacDonald of the Ninety-third Highlanders was killed at the storming of Lucknow. I have seen his mother within the last ten days, and heard from her own lips the story of her son's gallant death. This ring is to the signet-ring of the MacDonald clan. Who and what you are, and how the ring came into your possession, is known best to yourself. What I have said I repeat, and am prepared to prove—that you are a liar and a scoundrel. Now, sir, what have you to say in your own defence?"

The Captain had risen at Frank's first startling announcement, with a look of indignant defiance on his face: but when he felt his whole edifice of deceit and imposture crumbling beneath his feet, he sank back upon the sofa, and buried his face in his hands. There was profound silence for a few seconds during which Jack crossed the room on tiptoe, and seated himself where he could stare comfortably and unrestrainedly at his fallen enemy.

The presence of Jack, whom he had always disliked, seemed to act as a sort of tonic upon MacDonald, for he arose, and, turning to Frank and myself, said with an amount of straightforwardness I hardly expected from him:

"Gentlemen, I have nothing to say in my own defence, but that, like many a better man, I have been the victim of my own ambition. I was the confidential servant of the late Captain MacDonald, and when he fell at Lucknow, I dug his grave with my own hands and laid him in it. Some devil prompted me to appropriate his worldly belongings, take his name, and pass myself off to the world for what I had always longed and burned to be—a gentleman. In the flight and confusion that followed the indiscriminate slaughter at Cawnpore, it was never rightly known who had escaped and who had not. I am not without education, as you may have observed, and daily intercourse with my master and his friends had accustomed me to the manners and usages of society——"

"And entitled you to impose upon an unsuspecting gentlemau like myself, and ask the hand of his sister in marriage!" I exclaimed, my whole soul in a blaze indignation as I thought of Kitty and what she had so narrowly escaped. "Begone, sir, and be thankful that I do not send the police to escort you to where you properly belong. And now, Frank," I continued, as the door closed upon my quondam friend, "tell me how in the devil name you made all these discoveries?"

"Through the queen of imps and fairies, your sister Kitty," replied Frank, throwing himself into a armchair with a sigh of relief. "She saw more than you did, my dear fellow, and declares the Captain had not the true ring to her fine perceptions from the first. Her suspicions were confirmed by his unwillingness or inability to explain the device and motto of the ring to her, and she wrote to me in London to make inquiries for the family and friends of Captain MacDonald of the Ninety-third, and ascertain where that gallant soldier was supposed to be at the present time. I did so, and you know the result."

"Then you and Kitty are——"

"The best friends in the world, you dear, darling, credulous old donkey!" exclaimed Kitty, who had entered unperceived, and after squeezing my head till I am certain she made three or four dents in it., began capering about the room, with an animation which showed anything but regret for the loss her of late admirer.

"And now, brother Tom," she said, dancing back to me, and shaking her small fist in my face, "don't you ever dare to play the mentor to me again, or scold me about flirting. or assume to know more than I do upon any subject whatever."

"No danger of my ever interfering with you again, little woman," I replied "I hand you over with a glad and thankful heart to my old friend here, and may you never cause him as many sleepless nights as you have me." As I spoke I put Kitty's hand in Frank's, and Jack jumped upon a chair, and patted them in a fatherly way upon the head. "God bless you, dear children," he said, in a mocking tone; "and now, Katharine Cornelia, let us sing 'Ten little Indians' with full orchestral accompaniment. It will remind us so pleasantly of Tom's friend the Captain."

The "Old North State"—Her Future.

BY A STUDENT OF THE UNIVERSITY.

——— N P P

As citizens of the State of North Carolina it would be impossible for us to discover a theme of more absorbing interest, than her future prospects and anticipations.

There is no feeling which finds a resting place in the human heart more noble, or more commendable than solicitude for the interests and welfare of one's country. Nor is there a sentiment which can do more credit to any man, than a proper and becoming regard for the honor and dignity, as well as for the weal of his native State. That breast which nourishes a pride for the State of its nativity, must necessarily be actuated in some degree by patriotic principles. And that so many North Carolinians cherish this praiseworthy feeling, is an assurance of a proud future for our growing commonwealth. For not only will such pride of State induce her ripened men to rise up with one accord to repel foreign invasion, and to combat with the greatest energy, zeal and heroism, any attempt to wrest from us our heritage of liberty, but it will stimulate her youth to honorable exertion. It will not suffer them to stand passively by, and see other States leading the van of Artisans, of Heroes, of Poets, of Scholars and of Philosophers.

There is another ground of hope. North Carolina situated as she is between the North and the South, with her deep and navigable rivers, and her facilities for the construction of railroads, will, it is extremely probable, become the channel of commerce between these two great sections. What a vision does this awaken! Cities will spring up as if by magic. Our territory will become a perfect net-work of railroads. Telegraph offices will be established in every village, and wealth will flow into our coffers.

But of equal value with her commercial facilities, are her capabilities as a manufacturing State In these she is unsurpassed by any of her sisters. Her numerous rivers, creeks, and rivulets, while murmuring in gentle cadence, or rushing with impetuous force on their way to mingle their waters with those of the ocean, afford abundant facilities for the concentration of water power and her iron mines furnish material for the construction of an almost unlimited amount of machinery. Thus with a proper development of her resources she might be made to rank first among the manufacturing States.

The capabilities of this State for agricultural purposes are also very great. Near our sea coast are lands, which after having been cultivated for over fifty years without manure, or rotation of crops, produce from twenty-five to seventy-five bushels of corn, and half as much wheat to the acre. Under a new system of culture, such for instance as that adopted by Pennsylvania farmers, how immense would be the pecuniary benefit accruing to the State. The application of manure, a thorough system of drainage, and the introduction of new crops, could not fail to render the agricultural interests of North Carolina as valuable as those of any other State.

But if North Carolina is thus blessed with gifts, she is no less blessed with graces. The inestimable privilege of the ballot is ours, unrestricted by considerations of race and property; and every voter may even aspire to the more exalted positions in the land. The constitution provides in the plainest and most unmistakable terms, that no unjust system of taxation will be tolorated, and the Homestead Law secures even to the insolvent debtor a place of refuge for himself and family.

Nor can too much be said in honor of the people of North Carolina. Hospitable to strangers; kind and benevolent in their dispositions, yet firm and undaunted in the hour of danger; proverbial for their cantion and deliberation, and their aversion to war and bloodshed, they stand preeminent as a loyal, a spirited, a chivalrous, a patriotic people. And we may be sure that the coming crowds whose footsteps we already hear upon Northern borders will be of a like noble character. For these emigrants will not be mere speculators and adventurers, nor will they be impoverished and unthrifty men. Our State affords nothing upon which such Harpers can prey. But emigrants to North Carolina will be substantial, hard working men, who will put their shoulders to the wheel of progress, and infuse energy and life, into our people. We want working men, and we shall have them. Labor is the talisman whose magic touch converts even the trees of the forest, and the dry clods of earth into gold.

And added to all these sources of assurance for future greatness, we have our heritage of christian principles and we have as an incentive to action the just fame of our forefathers. Of a Badger, a Gaston, a Mitchell, Carolinians all, whose noble deeds like the living flame burn deep in the hearts of their grateful countrymen.

As a North Carolinian then, proud of her because she is my own State, because I cherish for her a feeling as broad as my love for my whole country, and as tender as my love for my mother, I look to her future with delight, sure of her prosperity, of her greatness and her glory.

The Poisoned Tongue.

It is a custom in Africa for hunters, when they have killed a poisonous snake, to cut off its head and carefully bury it deep in the ground. A naked foot stepping on one of these fangs would be fatally wounded. The poison would spread in a very short time all through the system. This venom lasts a long time, and is as deadly after the snake is dead as before. Our cruel Indians used to dip the points of their arrows in this poison, so, if they made the least wound, their victim would be sure to die. The snake's poison is in its teeth; but there is something quite as dangerous, and much more common in communities, which has its poison on its tongue. Indeed, your chances of escape from a serpent are greater. The worst snkes usually glide away in fear at the approach of man, unless disturbed or attacked. But this creature, whose poison lurks in his tongue attacks without provocation, and follows up its victim with untireing perseverance. I will tell you his name, so you will always be able to shun him. He is called Slanderer. Beware of such characters. They care not who their victim is. Shun them if possible.

Miscellaneous.

A Poetical Divorce.

The Memphis, Avalanch says the following is an exact copy of a petition for a divorce recently filed in that city. It is decidedly a case of romantic misery:

Sarah W——vs. Randall W——, alias Randall H——:

Your petitioner, who has been for two years, and is now, a resident of Memphis, represents to your honor that on or about October 23, 1869, she was lawfully married with the defendant, Randall——, who sometimes calls himself Randall——, also a resident of Memphis, and has made him a dutiful and obedient wife. They lived together about two weeks; they were united as two clouds that meet at evening. They were "two souls with but a single thought, two hearts that beat as one." For the first week he was kind, and their lives as harmonious as music. During the second week he was harsh, cruel, and inhuman in his conduct, and made it unsafe for her to live with him and be under his dominion nnd control.

He was the worst kind of Othello; threatened to drive her out of the house, and tried to force her to leave him. He then deserted her on the classic Hatchie, "like Anaden weeping by the waters," or like Dido with a willow in her hand. He has never returned to charm her loneliness. Promises considered, &c., prays for such relief as your honor may grant and the complexion of the case may demand.

Too Poor.

Moore, of the Rural New Yorker, was sitting in his office one afternoon some years ago, when a farmer friend came in and said: "Mr. Moore, I like your paper, but times are so hard I cannot pay for it."

"Is that so, friend Jones? I'm very sorry to her that you are so poor; if you are so hard run I will give you may paper."

"Oh, no! I can't take it as a gift."

"Well, then, let's see how we can fix it. You raise chickens, I believe."

"Yes, a few, but they don't bring anything hardly."

"Don't they? Neither does my paper cost anythieg, hardly. Now I have a proposition to make to you. I will continue your paper, and when you go home pou may select from your lot one chicken and call her mine. Take good care of her and bring me the proceeds, whether in eggs or in chickens, and we will call it square."

"All right, brother Moore;" and the old fellow chuckled at what he thought a capital bargain. He kept the contract strictly, and at the end of the year found that he had paid four prices for his paper. He ofter tells the joke on himself, and says he never has had the face to say he was to poor to take a paper since that day."—Model Farmer.

The Bachelor Juror.

A gentleman who is rather given to story telling relates the following:

When I was a young man I spent several years in the South, residing for a while at Port Hudson on the Mississippi river. A great deal of litigation was going on there about that time, and it was not always an easy matter to obtain a jury. One day I was summoned to act in that capacity, and repaired to court to get excused.

On my name being called I informed his honor, the judge, that I was not a freeholder, and therefore not qualified to serve.

"I am stopping for the time being at Port Hudson."

"You board at the hotel, I presume?"

"I take my meals, but I have rooms in another part of the town, where I lodge."

"So you keep bachelor's hall."

"Yes, sir."

"How long have you lived in that manner?"

"About six months."

"I think you are qualified," gravely remarked the judge; "for I have never known a man to keep bachelor's hall the length of time you name, who had not dirt enough in his room to make him a freeholder! The court does not excuse you.

Rules of Etiquette.

Before you bow to a lady in the street, permit her to decide whether you may do so or not, by at least a look of recognition.

"Excuse my gloves" is an unnecessary apology, for the gloves should not be withdr

NORTH CAROLINIAN.

EQUAL RIGHTS FOR ALL MEN.

PALEMON JOHN, : : : : : : Editor.

Elizabeth City, N. C., Mar. 30, 1871.

For terms and advertising rates, see first page.
We cannot notice anonymous communications. In all cases we require the writer's name and address, not for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

A complete file of the NORTH CAROLINIAN may be found at the office of GEO. P. ROWELL & Co., Advertising Agents 40 and 41 Park Row New York, who are authorized to represent us in that city.

THE PROMISED EDITORIAL.

We have good reason to believe that the extraordinary statements we are about to make will be received by a certain class of our readers with profound astonishment; still, we shall venture to make them.

1. The NORTH CAROLINIAN is printed upon paper, and not upon the leaves of the forest; that paper is manufactured at Baltimore at considerable cost, and is not given away mirabile dictu! but is sold for MONEY, and for nothing else.

2. The NORTH CAROLINIAN is printed by means of types, made out of genuine metal, and not out of putty, clay or saw dust; great will be your amazement to learn that these little, black, villanous looking types, also, can only be had for MONEY.

3. The NORTH CAROLINIAN, we are compelled in truth to say, is printed with ink, veritable ink, dark as a stack of black cats, and not with a decoction of charcoal and tobacco juice; and would you believe it, that even for this ink unprincipled men are found base enough to demand MONEY? Doubtless your surprize will be immense to learn that this is even so.

4. The NORTH CAROLINIAN could not be printed without the aid of a huge cast iron, complicated, compound, double-acting, sinister looking monster, called a Printing press, full of all manner of ill-looking crooks and cranks and springs and wheels, levers, joints, bolts, bars, bands and screws, put together with an art and skill consumate if not infernal. "Shall we speak, or shall we be silent?" Let the truth be known—to wit: this hideous machine is not summoned from the vasty deep nor from the aerial realms, either by the magician's wand or the invocation of spirit or fancy, but comes forth only at the bidding of MONEY!

5. The NORTH CAROLINIAN would still remain "without form and void" but for the agency of a numerous set of compositors and, horibile dictu, "devils." This might all be well enough perhaps, were it not for a certain strange conceit which has taken posession of the whole batch, that they must all wear clothes and eat, for sooth, just like the rest of human kind. And we grieve to say that beef steak and cassimere cannot be had, even in this Christian land, without MONEY.

6. There is, indeed, another nondescript abstraction connected with the NORTH CAROLINIAN, yclept the Editor, who having stomach and "pheelinks" like other men, is also obliged to have MONEY to satisfy these natural wants.

Having made these astonishing disclosures we close with a few brief reflections. First, CENTS; Secondly, DIMES; Thirdly, DOLLARS. Delinquents, PAY UP. No new subscriber entered on our books unless the order is accompanied with the cash, and all old ones who owe beyond a certain time in arrears stricken off, and their accounts placed in the hands of proper officers for collection. We have resolved to do a cash business.

MUST BE SUPPRESSED.

We repeat that while Eastern North Carolina is and will remain entirely exempt from the dastardly midnight outrages which disturb and disgrace the Western portion of our State, every man in every part of the commonwealth has a deep interest that they be suppressed, and that promptly and effectually. The entire State is made to suffer in reputation abroad, and even here, in the quiet and peaceful section, we are feeling its effects. Not one third of the capital and industry from the North is arriving here that, but for the deeds of arson and murder in the Ku-klux localities, would surely come. It is the influx of intelligent, energetic and efficient workers—farmers and mechanics—that will double and treble the average value of our real estate and thus continually reduce the burdens of our taxation. While turbulence and disorder are tolerated or allowed to exist in any part of the State, no matter how distant from us, it is difficult to make the cautious, prudent Northern capitalist believe that he will find security even here. Hence interest, if no other motive, should induce every man in the good "Old North State" to unite in the demand that Ku-kluxism be put down by the strong arm of the Government.

From Paris the news still indicates as though the horrors of the elder revolution might be re-enacted. The mob rules and the streets are drenched with blood. A nation so prone to these debauches of carnage cannot hope to retain the sympathy or the admiration of mankind.

The Convention bill has failed of a two-thirds vote. We understand it to be the determination to call a Convention upon a majority vote.

No matter how humble the individual or citizen, the Government is bound to protect him in his rights, his liberty, his property and his life.

THE IMPEACHMENT TRIAL.

The Impeachment trial is over and WILLIAM W. HOLDEN has been convicted and deposed from the Gubernatorial office. We give the vote in another column. We call attention to the fact that the Senate virtually acknowledged that he did right in declaring Alamance and the other counties in a state of insurrection by acquiting him of illegally and unnecessarily instituting martial law therein, and yet it has condemned him for the employment of means to suppress the insurrection and restoring order. See the stultification. He was justified in declaring the rebellion, but wrong in suppressing it! How can such a decision be respected?

We are neither the defender nor apologist of Gov. HOLDEN. During the first years of his administration he, unfortunately, allowed himself to be surrounded by cormorants like SWEPSON and LITTLEFIELD—men whose operations came near bankrupting the State. He should have cut loose from them long before he did. But in his efforts to protect the outraged citizens of the State and to suppress the Ku Klux rebelion we think he was acuated by proper motives. For this the Ku Klux Democracy resolved that he should be removed from office. In obedience to the behest of the secret caucus FEDERICK N. STRUDWICK—a man proven before the Investigating Committee of the United States Senate, and before the Chief Justice of this State not only to be a prominent member of the organization but one of the number ordered to assassinate Senator SCHOFFNER who was the author of the law under which HOLDEN acted—this man introduced the Articles of Impeachment! Another fact must not be forgotten. Seven of the Senators who voted for Impeachment hold their office in direct violation of the Constitution. Is comment needed?

ENERGY.

A man who lacks energy will find that this world is a hard one, and his lips, no doubt, will be found talking about the difficulties and troubles of this life, as if he was the only one upon whom such troubles—which arise from a lack of energy—had ever fallen.

If a man is to be discouraged by obstacles which need but perseverance to surmount them, he might as well think of dying, for this world is full of them, and no sooner can he conquer one difficulty than another arises. Some people seeing their neighbors flourishing in their affairs, while their own seem to be going "to the bad," imagine that they have mistaken their vocation, forgetting that it is energy which they lack. They are envious of others, who because of their energy, get along in the world. It is the duty of a young man to attend faithfully and perseveringly to his business, for "a rolling stone gathers no moss," and

"Give e'en a fool the employment he desires,
And he soon finds the talent it requires."

On the 21st, being the eve of his seventy-fourth birth day, the Emperor WILLIAM opened the first Parliament of United Germany. Taken in its full significance, the position was one of the proudest that any crowned head ever occupied. The speech delivered was worthy of the occasion. "This fiery ordeal of war through which we have passed is a reliable guarantee of European peace." "Independent Germany respects the independence of others." Such sentiments, sincerely adhered to, will make the unification of Germany all the blessing which its most sanguine friends predicted it would be. Let Germany crown the edifice of constitutional freedom as effectually as she has completed her task of union and self defense, and there will be no greater future in Europe than hers.

The Legislature has passed a bill providing that any Sheriff failing to settle with the public Treasurer for taxes due for the fiscal year ending September 30th, and not paying the same within twenty days, shall be deemed guilty of felony, and on conviction sentenced to the Penitentiary.

The Impeachment trial has cost the State over Sixty Thousand Dollars. How do these Conservative gentlemen who have been grumbling at taxation and the wasting of the public money justify this foolish expenditure?

The Ku Klux Democracy have removed Gov. HOLDEN it is true, but in his place is that sterling old Republican Gov. CALDWELL, who was sworn into office by Chief Justice PEARSON on Thursday last.

The President has issued a Proclamation, dated March 24, ordering the Ku-Klux banditti of South Carolina to disperse and retire peaceably to their respective abodes within twenty days.

A bill has passed the Senate requiring every Justice of the Peace and Constable to enter into bond of one thousand dollars.

All who have meditated on the art of governing mankind have been convinced that the fate of empires depends on the education of youth.

Correspondence.

Elizabeth City.

To the Editor of the North Carolinian:

Certainly no town in North Carolina has undergone greater changes during the past three years than Elizabeth City, and the sleepiest old fogy must be wide enough awake to see that these changes are for the better. When the war ended, in 1865, the little town was a wreck, sorrowful to behold; square after square on the principal streets were without a house or even a fence,—nothing was to be seen upon them but black chimneys and walls, and the piles of brick and mortar where old walls and chimneys had fallen. In other places where houses were standing, all was dilapidation and decay,—fallen and falling fences, dingy residences, trees untrimmed, shrubbery broken and dying and scarcely a flower garden to be seen. The bridges had been burnt, or had decayed and fallen; the streets were not cared for; rank weeds covered the vacant squares and even, in many places, the occupied lots; the wharves were falling and being washed away, and but little interest was taken in either the appearance or healthful condition of the place. No business to any considerable extent was done, for no one had money; vessels were seldom seen in the harbor,—indeed there was nothing for them to do. The people were dispirited, and the dark pall of gloom was hanging over everything. So things continued, with but little improvement until 1868. During the time from 1865 to 1868 real estate in this place and the country surrounding was absolutely valueless. Land was the very last thing that anyone wanted, and wherever it became necessary to offer real estate for sale, it was sure to be sacrificed. I will give an instance—at an administrator's sale which took place in 1867, two vacant lots of nearly one-half acre each were sold at the price of sixteen dollars each, and another full half acre lot, having upon it a tolerable house and a kitchen, was sold at the price of seventy-five dollars,—and all these lots are in the town of Elizabeth City. I leave it to my fellow citizens to say whether the picture above is too highly colored.

In 1868 William Underwood came to this place, purchased the Great Park Estate of about 30,000 acres, in this county, also a number of lots in town; he immediately went to work to organise the Land and Lumber Company, and by his untiring exertions succeded. A charter was obtained; the company opened a large store in the place, and went to work improving the property they had bought by repairing and painting the houses and fences, building up their wharves and draining their low lands. At the same time they continued to purchase and improve.

William Underwood was the heart and soul of the whole movement,—his untiring energy, his determined battling with difficulties, his facing the armies of croakers and fogies, his zeal, his work of brain, and arm—say what we will, croak as we may—have brought about these changes for the better. He, the visionary, the theoriser, the enthusiast, as he was called—saw mines of wealth, that only required the stout arm to dig for, and he entered upon the work in dead earnest. What is the result—the actually accomplished result? The Land and Lumber Company hold property here that is worth to-day five fold what it cost them. They will not only succeed, but every day adds increased value to their property; and indeed it would be a public calamity if they should not succeed. It is their influence, with the powerful help of the North Carolinian, that has already bridged several of our streams, and drained away in many places the water from stagnant pools; their influence and their actual work has added beauty as well as value to every neighborhood where they hold property. They have built mills and opened new streets, and it is plain to see, wherever their hand has been, that as they work on they improve, and, that in benefitting themselves, they benefit all around them. May the Land and Lumber Company go on prospering and to prosper, and may a thousand more such visionaries as William Underwood come and settle in our midst. We will receive them with the right hand of fellowship, and gladly share with them our broad fertile fields, for there is ample room for all such as may come, and for us.

The new comers into our town and county since 1868, number at this time probably three hundred. They have purchased town lots and farms, and are permanently located in different parts of the county. They are principally from Pennsylvania and New York and are generally men of energy—actual workers. And still they continue to arrive almost daily, bringing their money and investing it. Probably fifty farms in the county are owned by them, and I do not think it would be an exaggeration to say that one-third of the area of the town is at present owned and occupied by them.

Dr. John with his Carolinian, has ably and materially aided in the good work. Without doubt he is a live man and the editor of a live paper, whose motto, practically, is—Let us have peace—Let us advance!

I have been looking around to-day at the improvements going on in and around Elizabeth City, and will say something about them in the next issue.

PETREL.

From a Visitor.

To the Editor of the North Carolinian:

Thursday evening, March 29th, will close three weeks spent in Elizabeth City. My friend Mr. R. and myself came among you as entire strangers, but we are happy to say we do not depart as such. During the few short weeks spent in your midst you have treated us with the greatest respect and kindness; you extended to us the hand of fellowship; you invited us to your homes; you have spared no time and labour to show us your beautiful country and make us acquainted with all its peculiarities and natural advantages and beauties.

In return for your kindness please accept our heartfelt thanks and allow me to say that our short visit among you has been one of unbounded pleasure. We have been highly pleased with your hospitable people, your beautiful and fertile country, and the many natural advantages connected therewith, and by careful observation we can but conclude that this county (Pasquotank) is destined to become rich and prosperous and Elizabeth City a place noted for its beauty, industry and morality.

It is with reluctance that we depart from among you, but circumstances require it. And now Farewell, but not without hoping we may soon again have the pleasure of meeting you face to face in the same social capacity.

The Legislature.

On the 21st in the Senate a resolution was adopted instructing the Judiciary Committe to report a bill for the better defining of certain duties of Justices of the Peace where jurisdiction has been had in petty misdemeanors. The balance of the session taken up with substitute to the bill in regard to the Educational Fund. An amendment requiring the Treasurer of the county to give an additional bond and making derelictions a misdemeanor, was also adopted. Also, amendment that the county Treasurer shall bring along with him here a certificate of the clerk of the Superior Court as to the genuineness of the signature of the Chairman of the Board of Commissioners. In the Court of Impeachment the argument of Ex-Gov. Bragg was concluded.———In the House the special order being a bill to submit the question of Convention or no Convention to the people, after a long and exciting discussion the vote stood 61 for and 46 against the bill failing in getting a two thirds vote.

On the 22nd in the Senate M. Speed introduced a bill incorporating the Pioneer Manufactory Company. The balance of the day occupied voting on the Impeachment. See synopsis in another column.———In the House Mr. Chamberlain introduced a bill to authorize the Commissioners of Camden county to levy a special tax. But little else of special interest.

On the 23rd in the Senate a bill amending the laws of 1869, in relation to the habeas corpus proceedings, (making a refusal of any Judge to grant writs in cases provided in this act, he shall be liable to impeachment, and be also liable to payment of $2,500 to the party aggrieved,) passed its several readings. The balance of the day occupied with local bills.———In the House Mr. Sparrow offered a resolution that Edward W. Jones, Judge of the 2nd Judicial District, be impeached for high crimes and misdemeanors in office. Mr. Jordon, a resolution of censure to Chief Justice Pearson for his action in the case of Adolphus G. Moore and others. Both referred. On motion of Mr. French, a bill to allow the Commissioners of Tyrell county to levy a special tax, was taken up and passed its second reading.

On the 24th in the Senate a resolution supplying deficiency in the Public Treasury was passed.———In the house but little of interest.

On the 25th in the Senate a Message from the House transmitting a bill creating a committee to inquire into corruption and bribery in the late railroad transactions, which, on motion of Mr. Graham, of O., was taken up, read and passed its several readings.———In the House Mr. Sparrow, from the Judiciary Committee, submitted a report in the case of Judge E. W. Jones, recommending the adoption of the resolution to impeach him for misdemeanors in office. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 51 to 35. A motion to reduce the pay of members to $2 a day after the 4th of April was adopted.

Congress.

On the 21st in the Senate discussion of Southern outrages was continued, the question of appointing a Joint Committee of Investigation being the pending question during a part of the debate, and the resolution limiting the legislation of the session to this subject during the remainder. Mr. Thurman made a speech of considerable length, in which he claimed that the outrages were greatly exaggerated, and such as existed were the result of Republican administration of affairs. Mr. Ames, of Mississippi, made a long speech, in the course of which he declared that 800 Republicans had been murdered in Louisiana within sixty days, and no conviction had taken place. Mr. Nye mentioned a carefully-prepared statement which showed that 50,000 murders had been committed in the South since the war. Mr. Sawyer, of South Carolina, proposed as an amendment the removal of all political disabilities, and urged its adoption as a remedy for the prevailing disorders. None of the pending questions were disposed of. Nothing of importance in the House.

On the 22nd in the Senate Mr. Anthony's resolution, limiting the legislation, was taken up and the discussion continued. At 1 o'clock the vote was taken on Mr. Sherman's amendment to provide for the suppression of Southern outrages, and it was agreed to—31 to 18. A motion to lay the resolutions on the table was then rejected—38 to13. The repeal of the duties on coal, salt, tea, coffee and sugar was proposed as an amendment, and rejected —23 to 33. The bill to repeal the income tax was also proposed as an amendment, and defeated by the casting vote of the Vice-President. Mr. Sumner moved his Equal Rights bill as an amendment, and that was rejected. Mr. Frelingheysen moved as an amendment the bill to promote the collection of the revenue, which was also rejected. The General Amnesty bill was next proposed as an amendment, and rejected—21 to 31. Mr. Anthony's resolution was then agreed to by a vote of 36 to 18.———In the House the three members from New-Hampshire appeared and were sworn in. A report was made in favor of the validity of the election of the Tennessee members, and Mr. Edwards, of Arkansas, was sworn.

On the 23rd in the Senate the consideration of Mr. Sherman's resolution directing the Judiciary Committe to report measures for the suppression of disorders in the South was resumed, and Mr. Scott, of Pennsylvania, made a long speech on the subject of Ku-Klux outrages.

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT.

A special Message from the President was received, read, and ordered to be laid on the table and printed. The Message was as follows:

To the Senate and House of Representatives:

A condition of affairs now exists in some of the States of the Union rendering life and property insecure, and the carrying of the mails and the collection of the revenue dangerous. The proof that such a state of affairs exists in some locallities is now before the Senate. That the power to correct these evils is beyond the control of the State authorities I do not doubt; that the power of the Executive of the United States, acting under the limits of the existing laws, is sufficient for the present emergencies, is not clear; therefore, I urgently recommend such legislation as, in the judgment of Congress, shall effectually secure life, liberty and property in all parts of the United States. It may be expedient to provide that such law as shall be passed in pursuance of the recommendation shall expire at the end of the next session of Congress. There is no other subject on which I would recommend legislation during the present session.

(Signed,) U. S. GRANT.

WASHINGTON, March 23, 1871.

In the House a resolution was adopted that, the Senate permitting, the House would adjourn on Monday next to the first Monday of Decemeer tne vote stood 112 to 69. The President's Message was received, recommending legislation on Southern disorders, and a long discnssion sprung up on a motion to refer it to a select committee of nine, to be appointed by the Speaker. The Committee was finally ordered and the appointments made, and the House then adjourned to Monday next.

On the 24th in the Senate the time occupied in the debate. The House not in session.

On the 25th the Senate again occupied in discussion.

On the 27th in the Senate Mr. Sumner made a lengthly speech in opposition to San Domingo. He was replied to by Mr. Mortin.———In the House several bills were introduced and referred.

Europe,

From the papers of the 21st we learn that the Hotel de Ville was occupied by the Nationals and was surmounted by the red flag. London special dispatches declare that Paris is in the hands of the mob, and that respectable citizens are stupefied and persons of prominence are flying from the city. M. Assy, of the International Society, is said to have presided over the Court which condemned Generals Le Comite and Clement-Thomas to death. Many of the streets of Paris are barricaded, and the National Guards are said to be the only armed force in the city.

The Ex-Emperor Napoleon arrived in England yesterday afternoon.—The English House of Commons yesterday voted $53,000 for the relief of Paris. There was an excited debate in the same body on a motion to abolish honorary Colonelcies.

From the papers of the 22nd we learn that on Monday the National Guards occupied several of the forts, seized the funds in the Hotel de Ville and the Mayoralties, and guarded all the approaches to the city to prevent invasion. Louis Blanc and others issued a proclamation in favor of the election by the National Guard of its own chiefs, and the choice of a Muncipal Council of Paris by the citizens. The Central Republican Committee published an official journal resenting the charge that the Nationals are guilty of crime, and fixing (Wednesday) for the election. The offices of the Figaro and Gaulois were closed by the Nationals. Yesterday it was said they would shoot M. Thiers and Gens. Vinoy and D'Aurelles, if they fell into their hands. Gen. Chanzy had been seriously injured by the mob. The marriage of the Princes Louise of England with the Marquis of Lorne took place yesterday. The Italian Chamber of Deputies has carried an order of the day that the Papal guarantees are not subject to international regulation The German Parliament was opened by Emperor William, in person, yesterday.

From the papers of the 23rd we learn that M. Glais-Bizion has been sent by the Government to conciliate the insurgents, and the Mayor has refused to concur in the holding of the elections. Many cities and towns of France have sent resolutions to the Government protesting against the revolt and declaring their adhersion to the Republic, and there is no movement anywhere in favor of the National Guards. President Thiers has sent out another reasuring circular, and the Government is confident of its ability to restore order with its army of 47,00 men. The National Assembly is united in action against the revolution. Count von Bismarck has been made a Prince of the German Empire, and Moltke has received the decoration of the Order of the Iron Cross. The South German members were warmly greeted in the Parliament at Berlin by the President of the Chambers. Emperor William's speech was delivered from the marble throne of Charlemagne, brought from Aix-la-Chapelle for the purpose.

From the papers of the 24th we learn that on Wednesday a number of unarmed persons demanded entrance to the Place Vendome and were refused. Retiring too slowly they were fired upon by the National Guards, and about thirty persons were killed. Count Bismarck has given notice to the National Assembly that the Germans will reoccupy Paris on Sunday next unless the Government is still confident of quelling the insurrection but hopes to avoid bloodshed. A proclamation was issued yesterday, giving assurance of this expectation. Troops are organizing in the interests of order, and the local authorities throughout France support the Government. Mentotti Garibaldi is reported to be the leader of the insurgeats.

From the papers of the 25 we learn that the Prussian Commander at St. Denis has notified the Command in Paris that if the peace preliminaries are overstepped the city will be treated as an enemy. The insurgent leaders are said to be losing control of their own men.

The German Parliament was organized yesterday by the election of Herr Simson as Vice-President of the Reichstag, or popular house. The Spanish elections had resulted in favor of the monarchy. The King of Portugal had congratulated King Amadeus upon their peaceable accession.

From the papers of the 27th we learn that the situation in Paris is reported as less satisfactory, and the success of the efforts at conciliation is doubtful, the insurgents having partially broken off negotiations. The insurrectionary Official Journal throws all the blame of the recent massacre on the "men of order," who it alleges, commenced tho demonstration.

The election in Paris on the 25th, and the Central Republican Committee has resigned its functions to the newly-elected Muncipal Government. Admiral Laisset has disbanded the loyal battalions and gone to Veasailles. The Deputies of the Republican Left have resolved to support the Goxernment so long as it remains true to the Republic. The health of Emperor Napoleon is reported good. The statement that his emissaries are giving the insurgente money is pronounced to be false.

The Removal of Gov. Holden.

THE CHARGES ON WHICH HE WAS FOUND GUILTY.

The high Court of Impeachment sitting for the trial of W. W. Holden, Governor of North Carolina, voted on Wednesday week on eight articles of impeachment preferred by the House, with the following result:

Forty-nine members were present and a two-third vote was required to convict.

On the first article he was found "not guilty," yeas, 30, nays, 19; charge—intending to stir up civil war in the State, proclaiming the County of Alamance in a state of insurrection, and sending eighty lawless, armed men into the county, when no insurrection existed.

On the second article the vote was yeas, 32; nays, 17, "not guilty." Charge—Intending to subvert personal and civil liberty, and the constitution of the State, by declaring Caswell County in a State of insurrection, and, by desperate and lawless armed bodies, aresting citizens by military force.

On the third article he was found "guilty." yeas, 37; nays, 12. Charge—On the 2nd of August, in the County of Orange, inciting John Hunicutt and others to seize and imprison for ten days Josiah Turner, Jr., in defiance of the Constitution.

On the fourth article "guilty;" yeas, 33; nays, 16. Charge—Command, August 1, 1870, George W. Kirk and other desperate prisoners to assault and deprive of liberty for one month or more four citizens of Caswell County.

On the fifth—"guilty;" yeas, 40; nays 9. Charge—in the months of June, July and August, recruiting and arming a large number of soldiers, with Kirk, Burgin and Yates as regimental officers, and sending such soldiers into the County of Alamance, where they arrested Adolphus G. Moore, who was detained as a prisoner on the order of Holden, in spite of a writ of habeas corpus issued by the Chief Justice.

On the sixth—"guilty;" yeas, 41; nays 7. Charge—same as article 5, with additional charge of refusing to obey a writ of habeas corpus.

On the seventh—"guily;" yeas, 41; nays, 13. Charge—incarcerating J. Turner of Orange County in loathsome dungeon with criminals; ordering certain men to hang William Patton and Lucien H. Murray; maintaining armed force, and making his warrant on the Treasury of North Carolina for $70,000.

On the eighth—"guilty;" yeas, 36; nays. 13. Charges: In the months of June, July, and August, making unlawful warrants upon the State Treasury—to above $800,000—for the purpose of maintaining large bodies of armed desperadoes, and inciting the Treasurer to recognize these unlawful warrants: also, in obtaining money in the same manner, and commanding the Treasurer to pay it, in defiance of a writ of injunction from the Superior Court.

An order was then passed removing Gov. Holden from Office, and disqualifying him from holding any office of honor or profit in the State. On this order the vote stood 36 in the affirmative and 13 in the negative.

All the Senators were present except one. The complexion of the Senate is 36 Conservatives and 14 Republicans. One Republican was absent, Mr. Flythe of Northampton.

A New-London jeweler's store was robbed by burglars, on Wednesday night, of $10,000 worth of watches and other goods.

General Summary.

Eight persons have been arrested at Harrisburg, Pa., for counterfeiting United States notes and currency.

Father Hyacinthe wants to see more of the United States, and has announced his intention of visiting us during the coming Summer.

In 1815 the present German Emperor, then in his teens, entered Paris among the conquerors of the first Napoleon at Waterloo.

Mr. Geo. S. Stephenson, a prominent young lawyer of Newbern, died in that place on Saturday last, aged twenty-four years.

The bill chartering the Bank of Eastern North Carolina, to be located in Newbern, has passed the House and is now a law.

Ex-Senator Richard Yates retured to his home in Jacksonville, Ill., on Friday evening last, and was cordially welcomed by his old neighbors and friends. He has been twenty-eight years in public life.

Dr. David H. Tucker, a practicing physician and old resident of Richmond, died on Friday. He was a brother of Beverly Tucker, and was for some years a Professor in the Medical College of Virginia.

A teamster in Boston lost his horses, wagon and a $5,000 load, on Friday, by going up to a fourth story for a package, and waiting "a minute," while the thief went down-stairs and drove off with them.

The Canadian elections are over, and the Liberals claim to have gained eight or ten members. The Government still claims to have a working majority. The Manitoba elections have passed quietly.

An expert forger, giving the name of John B. Thompson, obtained from the Baltimore Third National Bank $6,500, on a forged check on T. B. Coddington & Co., of New York, presenting also a forged letter purported to be written by the same firm.

Thomas Hart Clay, second son of Henry Clay, died in Lexington, Ky., on Saturday, at the age of sixty-eight years. He was Minister to Nicaraugua during a portion of President Lincoln's first Administration, and was afterward transferred to Honduras.

Judge Ellis Lewis, late Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, died Sunday week, in West Philadelphia, at the age of seventy four years. He was the first judge elected by the people, and at the expiration of his term he declined the renomination on the Democratic ticket.

The District Court met at Cheyenne, Wyoming Territory, on the 21st inst., and four ladies were among the jurors. John Boyer, a half-breed Sioux Indian, who murdered two men, near Fort Laramie, last October, was found guilty, and sentenced by the Judge to be hanged on the 21st of April.

New-Orleans papers report the elopement of the wife of one of that city's merchants with her cook, taking with her over $40,000 in money and jewelry. The cook is represented to be a handsome Englishman, about thirty years of age, who has been only three weeks in the country. The husband is very anxious to secure the return of the property.

Mayor Cobb, of Lynchburg, Va., before whom several negroes claimed the ownership of a dog, left the decision of the doubtful matter to the dog himself. Several of them called the intelligent animal pathetically, but he regarded them not; finally, one yelled out Buster, and with a bark of joy the dog rushed toward him, and decided the matter.

The State of Louisiana has purchased for $100,000 a site in New-Orleans for a new State House and an Executive mansion. The ground is high, and commands a fine view of the adjacent country. There is a clear sweep of land to the river, a distance of something over a mile by about a half mile in width. and it is in contemplation to locate the new park there.

New-Hampshire has not became Democratic. This vote means mainly, if not wholly, Republican apathy, born of over-confidence and the continuous triumphs of sixteen years, and Republican disaffection, engendered by local quarrels, liquor, and the unwise and untimely Sumner trouble. It is not by the continuance of such causes that parties are saved; and if the lesson is to be learned, in time for 1872, it has not been given us a month too soon. Let us take it for warning and incitement; and close up the ranks.

If you have a bad taste in your mouth, sallowness or yellow color of skin, feel despondent, stupid and drowsy, appetite unsteady, frequent headache or dizziness, you are "bilious," and nothing will arouse your liver to action and strengthen up your system equal to Dr. Pierce's Alt. Ext. or Golden Medical Discovery. Used moderately during exposure to malarial poisons it enables the liver to work off the poison, and will thus prevent Ague and Billious Fevers. It is just the thing for Jaundice. As a blood purifier for the cure of Pimples, Blotches Eruptions, Salt Rheum, and other skin diseases, it has never yet been equaled. Sold by druggists.

NORTH CAROLINIAN.

THURSDAY, MARCH 30, 1871.

THIS WEEK'S ADVERTISEMENTS.

We call attention to the following new advertisements in this issue

New York Advertisements.

Notice.

Local and Personal.

☞ The best thing to give the poor—employment.

☞ The peas will be in bloom in a few days.

☞ The Fisheries are doing much better than they did at this time last season.

☞ We are now enjoying the luxury of raddishes, asparagus and lettuce—the productions of our garden.

☞ The Steamer "North Carolina," burden 365 tons—loaded with Ice arrived yesterday.

☞ The article on our first page on "North Carolina" is from the pen of our talented young townsman WALTER F. POOL. It needs no encomium from us.

☞ We are satified that Barley will be found one of the best paying crops for this country. We suggest to our farmers to give it a trial. We are sure it can be made profitable.

☞ Dr. R. K. SPEED, of the State Senate, arrived home on Friday. Notwithstanding his vote for Impeachment his "conscience" didn't seem to disturb him. He returned again on Monday.

☞ A correspondent wishes to know if the brow of a hill ever becomes wrinkled. The only information we can give him on the point is that we have often seen it furrowed.

☞ There are two directly opposite reasons why some men we are acquainted with have poor credit—one because they are known, and the other because they are not known.

☞ Reader, if you have a neighbor who doesn't take the NORTH CAROLINIAN, please inform him that this is a good time to do so.

☞ A few days ago JOHN U. LEIBY left a Rye stalk at our office measuring 36 inches. He has several acres sown and it looks very fine. He has a large crop of wheat which also looks well

☞ A sympathising friend of the authors of a "Throbbing Brain" and a "Beating Heart," has come to the rescue. He sends us a pome on the "Stomach Ache." Look out for it in our next.

☞ Post masters returning papers addressed to persons who have moved away, should explain, if possible, what has became of the person addressed, or his present post office address. It is not sufficient to say that a paper is uncalled for.

☞ The other day, in the Senate, Mr. BLAIR, in attempting to parry the blows of Senator POOL on the Democratic party, got a little more than he bargained for. The frothy Senator from Missouri found more than his match in the Senator from North Carolina. Those who attack him always come off second best.

☞ A "young Lady" sends us the following for the consideration of our local correspondent who said he "admired a pretty woman:"

Weary old bachelor! what art thou doing!
Sitting alone there and perhaps rueing
Thy lonely lot—with no one to be sewing
Thy stockings and breeches!
Tell me, old bachelor, did no girl e'er choose you
Or did some pretty maiden tyrannically use you
Or a young widow inconstantly refuse you,
To take up with riches?

☞ The article on "Elizabeth City," in this issue, is from the pen of an old citizen—a native who is alive to every movement calculated to improve and advance our beautiful town. The picture he sketches of the past and present is not overdrawn, and the tribute he pays to Dr. UNDERWOOD as the indefatigable pioneer in the great work of progress here is fully merited. We tip our beaver for the compliment paid the NORTH CAROLINIAN, for, coming from the source it does, it is a compliment.

☞ By special request we return thanks to Messrs. ALLEN and EHRINGHAUS for their liberal and courteous entertainment given the moral and truthful young gentlemen of our city a few evenings since. Messrs. ALLEN and EHRINGHAUS are both deserving young men and it is earnestly wished by all who were present on the agreeable occasion that there may yet be a compromise made in regard to the subject which so much disturbed their "peace of mind" at the friendly gathering.

☞ It makes a great difference with some people whose ox is gored. They applaud us to the echo when we "pitch into" the old fogyism of others, but when our criticisms—always made for the public good—happen to embrace some of their short comings and errors they all at once discover that we "are of no account." This don't disturb us in the least. The NORTH CAROLINIAN is the avant coureur of Progress, and in its crusade against fossilized old fogyism it is no respecter of persons. It proposes, like the great Captain of the age, to "fight it out on this line if it takes all summer."

☞ On one pleasant afternoon a short time since some of the friends of Rev. S. S. LAMBETH, Pastor of the Methodist Church at this place, invited him and family to take a ride out in the country. During their absence the lady members of his congregation prepared a magnificent supper and filled his larder with a liberal supply of "things good and substantial." All unconscious of what was going on, he was surprized on his return to see so many callers all on the same evening, but on entering the house and beholding the bountiful provision made for himself and guests his surprise increased beyond expression. A pleasant evening was spent, long to be remembered by those who were present to enjoy it,

☞ Hon. Judge POOL will commence Court in Gates next week.

☞ Some Friends from Indiana held a meeting in the Methodist Church on Tuesday evening.

☞ Among the properties recently sold, we notice the Pendleton farm, a few miles from town, to Messrs. WHITE and ROBISON, of Schuyler county, New York.

☞ The steamer "Thomas Jefferson," having been neatly refitted and painted, was put on the line yesterday. The Daily line is making good time and giving satisfaction. Let the Company have every encouragement.

☞ Among the Northern arrivals since our last, we notice P. V. CLARK, of Mansfield, Pa., Mr. BAKER and family from Watsontown, Pa,, and the SHERMAN brothers, from Tioga county, Pa.

☞ To "Students" inquiry, "Who were the seven wise men of Greece?" we answer, Solon, Chilo, Pittacus, Bias, Periander, Cleobulus, and Thales. They were the authors of the celebrated mottoes inscribed in later days in the Delphian temple: Know Thyself, (Solon); Consider the End, (Chilo); Know Thy Opportunity, (Pittacus); Most Men are Bad, (Bias); Nothing is Impossible to Industry, (Periander); Avoid Excess, (Cleobulus); Suretyship is the Precursor of Ruin, (Thales.)

☞ Some people imagine that an editor knows everything and is prepared to give advice on all subjects. A troubled swain, in a neighboring town writes us that he is in a quandary. He says he has been paying attention to a charming young lady for some time and supposed that "true love was running smooth." At each visit he was always politey invited to tea, which was prepared in the usual style of the family. At the last visit however, just about the time of sitting up to the table, another chap—he calls him a "fop"—called in and was invited to take a seat. The table was cleared and another—an extra prepared—supper arranged. Our correspondent wants to know whether such special attention to "that other chap" was not an intimation on the part of the young lady and her family for him to "quit"; We answer him by telling him a story. Once upon a time a young man who like himself had been regularly visiting his "sweet heart" was always invited to partake of the family meal, consisting of mush and milk. On one occasion about the time the usual meal was ready a spruce young man made a call. The ordinary supper was set aside and one of cakes, tea, etc., prepared. Our hero was invited to ask a blessing. He did it in these words:

"The Lord be praised
Now I'm amazed
To see how things have ended,
Short cakes and tea
For Supper I see
When mush and milk was intended."

Our hero considered it an "eye opened." He administered his rebuke and never called again. It might be wise in our correspondent to follow his example.

CHEERING FACTS FOR THE BILIOUS.—Every day demonstrates more clearly that liver complaint, in all its distressing forms, can be controlled and cured without difficulty or inconvenience. It is an obstinate disease, but its obstinacy is not proof against the pertinacious, remedial and restorative operation of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. That genial corrective compels the organ to do its duty. It must secrete regularly and healthfully under the influence of the Bitters. Their action brings it back from a state of rebellion into perfect harmony with the laws of health. If there is costiveness, it disappears; if there is side-ache or back-ache, it ceases; if the skin and the whites of the eyes are tinged with superfluous bile, they recover their natural hue; if the appetite is gone, it returns; if the digestion is impaired, it is restored; in brief, whatever the symptoms of the complaint may be, and whatever the phase it has assumed, a cure is certain. Such are the uniform effects of this preparation where bilious disease has been already developed; but in cases where there is merely a constitutional tendency to liver complaint, it may be prevented throughout life by the regular use, in small quantities, of this palative antidote. These are proven facts, and should be seriously pondered—or, rather, they should be promptly acted upon—by all persons of bilious habit. 37-1m.

The PAIN KILLER is by universal consent allowed to have won for itself a reputation unsurpassed in the history of medical preparations. Its instantaneous effect in the eradication and extinction of Pain in all its various forms incident to the human family, and the unsolicited written and verbal testimony of the masses in its favor, have been, and are its own best advertisements.

The ingredients of the Pain Killer, being purely Vegetable, render it a perfectly safe and efficacious remedy taken internally, as well as for external applications, when used according to directions. The stain upon linen from its use is readily removed by washing with alchohol.

This Medicine, justly celebrated for the cure of so many of the afflictions incident to the human family, has now been before the public over thirty years, and has found its way into almost every corner of the world; and wherever it has been used, the same opinion is expressed of its medical properties.

In any attack, where prompt action upon the system is required, the Pain Killer is invaluable. Its almost instantaneous effect in Relieving Pain is truly wonderful; and when used according to directions, is true to its name, a Pain Killer. 37-1m.

MARRIAGE GUIDE.—Every one his own Doctor. A private instructor for married persons or those about to be married, both male and female, in everything concerning the physiology and relations of our sexual system, and the production and prevention of offspring, including all the new discoveries never before given in the English language, by Wm. Young, M. D. This is really a valuable and interesting work. It is written in plain language for the general reader, and is illustrated with numerous engravings. All young married people, or those contemplating marriage, and having the least impediment to married life, should read this book. It discloses secrets that every one should be acquainted with; still it is a book that must be locked up and not lie about the house. It will be sent to any address on receipt of 50 cts. Address Dr. Wm. Young, No. 416 Spruce Street above Fourth, Philadelphia. 19—6m.

LAND AND LUMBER COMPANY'S COLUMN.

LAND AND LUMBER COMPANY OF NORTH CAROLINA.

Incorporated by the Legislature of North Carolina, December 17, 1868.

CAPITAL STOCK - - - - $300,000,00.

General Office: Elizabeth City, N. C.

OFFICERS

J. M. WEED, President. C. W. SMITH, Treasurer.
C. H. ROBINSON, Secretary.

DIRECTORS

J. M. WEED, WM. UNDERWOOD, CHARLES W. SMITH,
N. R. ZIMMERMAN AND G. B. THOMPSON.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE LAND AND LUMBER COMPANY having a large amount of Real Estate of their own to dispose of, and their business having increased to such an extent, they think it prudent to decline acting further as Commission Agents for the sale of lands belonging to others. They will however be glad at all times to furnish every facility to parties coming to Elizabeth City with a desire to look at the country and make purchases if they find it to their interest to do so.

The following list of property, owned by the Company, is offered for sale on the most reasonable terms. Their object now is to acquire a larger monied capital for the purpose of further developing their unimproved lands and carrying out their original design of increasing the Commerce and General Trade of Elizabeth City.

As there are others in the Commission Business, parties are referred to their advertisement for further information.

ELIZABETH CITY.

The following desirable list of Properties in Elizabeth City are offered at very reduced paices for cash or on time payments at rates which make any of them excellent investments for capitalists. We feel confident that this City is destined to become a large place and property will advance rapidly. Emigration is now tending Southernward and the feeling is in universal favor toward Elizabeth City.

A large two-story dwelling known as the Personage, with fine double Ptazza, front and back, large out kitchen, stables, carriage house, with 17 acres of ground well enclosed. This ground is all within the corporation of the City, and is well situated to lay out in building lots and make out of it ten fold the price asked for it.

A two-story dwelling containing ten rooms, 10,000 gallon cistern and all necessary out-houses, with large lot. Situated on Main Street. A Vacant Lot no better located and not so large as this was sold recently for $1600 cash.

A large brick store house and wharf situate on Water street; in E. City, comprising three lots with 400 leet of water front. permanently wharfed for the accommodation of large vessels. There is crected on these lots a large two-story brick building, 50 by 80 feet, well fitted up for a wholesale or retail trade at present occupied by the "Yankee Store."

A large wood store on west side of Water street 36 by 60, two stories high, being one of the best stands on Water street for merchandizing.

A House and Lot on Riverside Avenue. House 20ft front by 50 ft deep. Containing eight rooms with Pantry and Cellar, all well finished. modern style, and having all necessary out buildings. The lot contains a front of 400 ft, and would be a good location for a large shop or foundry as one whole side fronts on the water.

Also a large number of Wharf Lots, Mill Lots and Vacant Lots at very low prices, some of which are enumerated below. The Wharf Lots are 200ft deep and will be sold to any size desired along the River. Among them are some most eligible situations for Store Houses, Mills and Manufactories of any kind as there is a fine harbor immediately in front of them, having 30ft of water, sufficient for vessels of any capacity. Along Pennsylvania Avenue are offered some of the finest and choicest lots, for dwellings in town at prices varying according to location. This will be the finest street in town, is 80 feet wide, size of Lot 100ft front by 200ft deep. There are now a number of first class residences being erected on this street. Immediately in the vicinity of these Lots the Company have erected a large Planing Mill, Sash, Blind and Door Factory at a cost of near $20,000 and also their Saw Mill at a cost of near $15,000. That now is the proper time to invest in those Lots there can be no doubt, as they will double in value in a very short time. Lots not near so good as these, are now selling in other parts of the City at more than double the price asked for these.

VACANT LOTS.

Lots Nos. 150, 155, 158, 161, 163, 165, 167, 170. 172. 175, 178, 180, 182. 185, 187. 190' 193, 195, 198 and 200, situate on Pennsylvania avenue, in the new extension of Elizabeth City, all choice lots, intended for the better class of residences. Size of lots 100 feet front by 200 feet deep. Price varying, according to location, from $100 to $1000.

TOWN LOTS.

Lots Nos. 250, 253, 255, 256, 258, 261, 263, 266, 267, 268. 271, 283, 285. 287, 288, 289, 291, 296, 299 and 300, situated on various Streets in the new extension of Elizabeth City, size of lots 50 feet front by 100 feet deep, at prices varying from $25 to $100.

MILL LOTS.

Four Mill-Lots situated on Knobb's Creek, so that logs can be taken from the creek to the mill. These lots have 200 feet each of water front. and over 600 feet deep to Mill street, and are choice sites. The purchaser will also have the right of storage for logs in the boom.

PASQUOTANK COUNTY.

The Land and Lumber Company also offer for sale, one thousand acres of their timbered land along the Main Road leading from Elizabeth City to Hertford and Edenton, Said land heavily wooded, soil very rich and about four miles from Elizabeth City. This land will be sold in lots to suit purchasers and at the low price of ten dollars per acre.

They also offer a tract of three thousand acres in Lots to suit purchasers, near the Pasquotank River, ten miles from Elizabeth City and three miles from South Mills. This land is heavily set with wood and also has upon it a vast amount of saw timber, and has a most excellent soil. This is a fine location for a small Colony. There is now a Public Road running directly through it. This tract is offered at the low price of eight dollars per acre if sold to one party, or at only a fraction more if divided into small lots.

The Company will also sell their farm of 250 acres two miles from Elizabeth City. 125 acres cleared and under good cultivation, well fenced, having upon it two dwelling houses, one new and the necessary out buildinos wanted on a farm, and will be sold on very reasonable terms.

Also another farm one mile from Elizabeth City containing one hundred acres, between thirty and forty acres cleared and under cultivation, the balance is now being cut off and is nearly ready to be cleared up and cultiuated. This property is very desirable being so near the City though for reasons first given will be sold at a very low price.

We have a finely timbered tract of land situated on the Albemarle Sound twenty miles from Elizabeth City, containing 124 acres. Good timber land bordering on the water is valuable both for wood as well as saw timber as water transportation affords a good margin for wood, say one dollar per cord. This will also make good farm land—will be sold for one thousand dollars.

Also one other tract of land containing 154 acres situated immediately on the Pasquotank River ten miles from Elizabeth City, valuable for wood, and is excellent farming lands, would be sold for six dollars per acre.

GATES COUNTY.

The Land & Lumber Company have a tract of 350 acres of timbered land one half mile from Chowan River and three miles from Winton the county seat of Hertford county. This body of land is well timbered and will be sold at the low price of three dollars per acre.

☞ The most direct and cheapest route is to go to Baltimore by N. C. R. R., then Bay Line steamer to Norfolk, Va., then steamer to Elizabeth City, N. C.
March 9th 1871.

Dec. 1.—1870-23-1y.

PUBLIC ADMINISTRATOR.

Having qualified as Public Administrator of Pasquotank county, I will give ample time and attention to the settlement of all estates that may come into my hands.

A late act of the Legislature has made material changes in regard to this subject, which it would be well for those interested to look into.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT.

The Grand Battle of 1871 has been fought.

The Old year has passed away, and much that exhibited when it began is not now. Many who we invited to read our notice when we first placed our business before the public will not see this. But yet there are many whose interest demand that they should read that they may be informed, and we would say to such, that we still continue to keep a large and well selected stock of all articles that can be found in a well regulated Drug Store as we unhesitatingly say we keep, we think many who have favored us with their patronage can testify. And a visit from you kind reader, will, we feel confident, convince you also. Our Stock at all times will be found equal to the demand, and we do not intend to begin the New Year with less disposition to please all, than we had when the Old Year passed away. We invite all to read this notice and each reader to call and see us. At the new Drug Store you will find Almanac's and Garden Seed Circulars for 1871, which we will take pleasure in giving to all free without price.

AGRICULTURAL, HORTICULTURAL AND DOMESTIC MATTERS.

Progress In Agriculture.

Every intelligent reader of agricultural journali is familiar with the name of Mr. Mechi, whose theories and practical operations in Great Britain have gone hand in hand, and he has lived to see many of the suggestions made by him twenty-seven years ago now almost universally adopted, or at least acquiesced in. The crops of his country during that period have largely increased, the wheat crop averaging two to three times as much as that of the United States, by the use of the sub-soil plow, by the application of bone and guano, by the aid of improved labor saving machinery on the farm, and yet he argues that "Britain is not half manured nor half farmed, and our landowners and farmers conjointly must accept this as a true proposition, and conclude that there is an immense field open and awaiting the joint action of increased intelligence and capital to produce more abundantly and more profitably food for the British people."

"I know," he adds, "that I have in my time shocked many prejudices and excited much anger, but has not every man done so who attacks antiquated customs and advocates changes and improvements? The supporters of the old spinning wheel, distaff and flail destroyed the newly invented cotton machinery and thrashing machines. It was natural, though a mistake; the conservative sentiment in favor of old inititutions is an honest and undesirable one up to a certain point, but it is the fight for progress and improvement which introduces us to a new state of things more suitable to our welfare."

If such are the needs of England, how much more so are they necessary in this country? We require to be stirred up to new efforts to induce us to leave the old ruts in which our fathers walked, and strike out for the new fields of labor which may be offered us, not in the far off West, but here, at our old homesteads, where we are called on to add more brain work to stimulate us toward the improvements in our system of agriculture to meet the chauged condition of our affairs.

At a meeting of the New Hampshire Farmer's Convention, under the auspices of the State Board of Agriculture, the President of the Board said that "one leading object of the Board is to secure the establishment of Farmers' Clubs in every town of the State," and several of the speakers bore testimony to the great improvement which was being made wherever these clubs have had an existence. Judge Roberts, of Rollinsford, strongly urged their formation. He said, "They teach young men to speak in public, and educate them to take part in discussing the interests of the town and State. The fact that our agricultural population is diminishing calls for prompt and thorough action. Make farming a business, and farmers need not be poor. It is the best business in the State. Finds no difficulty in making his farm pay. Has sons whom he is proud of as farmers, and they are satisfied with their occupation."

Mr. Walker, of concord, said what New Hampshire farmers need is an agricultural revival, and finely illustrated his point in the story of a colored preacher in Virginia. We can overcome the advantages of the West if we try. The exercises of a Farmers' Club awaken new interests in all; they are teachers. If truths are uttered they will be useful; if errors, they will be controverted and set right. We want details as well as general principles.

Mr. Brown, of Massachusetts, presents a printed programme of the winter's work in the club of which he is a member, and explained the manner of discussions in the club. In reply to the question of Mr. Walker, "What has been the result of the action of the club in the town"—he said, a decided increase of the crops an a less cost than heretofore, an education to the members which the best schools could not give, and more interest and satisfaction in the employment.

We hope to see these institutions ere long established in every quarter of our State, but let us again entreat that at all meetings in conecction therewith it shall be an established rule that no political or sectarian discussion will be permitted

To Fatten Fowls Quickly.

Set rice over the fire with skim milk, only as much as will serve one day. Let it boil till the rice is quite swelled out, and add a teaspoonful or two of sugar, but it will do well without. Feed the fowls three times a day in common pans, giving them only as much as will fill them at once. When you put in fresh, let the pans be set in water, that no sourness may be conveyed to the fowls, as that prevents them from fattening. Give them clean water, or the milk of the rice to drink, but the less wet the rice is, when partially soaked, the better By this method the flesh will have a clear whiteness which no other food gives, and when it is to be considered how far a pound of rice will go, and how much time is saved by this mode, it will be found cheaper than barley meal. The pen should be daily cleansed, and no food given for sixteen hours before the poultry is to be killed.

HOW TO FATTEN A POOR HORSE.—Many good horses devour large quantities of grain or hay, and still continue thin and poor; the food eaten is not properly assimilated, If the usual food has been unground grain and hay, nothing but a change will effect any desirable alteration in the appearance of the animal. In case oil meal cannot be obtained readily, mingle a bushel of flax-seed with a bushel of barley, one of oats, and another of Indian corn, and let it be ground into fine meal. This will be a fair proportion for all his feed. Or the meal, or the barley, oats and corn, in equal quantities, may first be procured, and one-forth part of oil cake mingled with it, when the meal is sprinkled on cut feed.

VENSION STEAK.—Cut them from the neck; season them with pepper and salt. When the gridiron has been well heated over a bed of bright coals, grease the bars and lay the steaks upon it. Broil them well, turning them once, and taking care to save as much of the gravy as possible. Serve them up with currant jelly laid on each steak.

A CHEAP AND GOOD PIE.—To half a teacup of vinegar put put one tablespoonful of butter, one teacup of molasses, one teacup of dried currants, one egg and a listle nutmeg. Roll two soda crackers fine, and add to the above, and you will have material enough for two pies. Try them, and you will make more.

WASHING FLANNELS.—Make a hot suds with good soft soap; put in the flannels and let them lie a few minutes; then wash thoroughly wiih the hands. have ready some boiling water; disolve a little blue or indigo, and pour on it sufficient of the hot water to prove the goods; put them in, and let them remain until cold enough to ring. Dry in the air and iron when slightly damp. Iron on the right side.

DESCRIPTIVE CATALOGUE.

OF VALUABLE

NORTH CAROLINA LANDS,

FOR SALE BY

GEORGE D. POOL.

Real Estate Agent,

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C.

In presenting my list of lands and other properties for sale, I would say that no section of the United States offers such inducements for capitalists and emigrants, as this section of North Carolina. In longevity and healthfulness, it will compare favorably with any where; and in easy and cheap transportation of products to market, in pleasantness of climate, in the sociability of the people, in great fertility, and durability of soil, no section can equal it.

A railroad will soon be built to Weldon, putting this place in direct communication by Rail, with the whole United States. This, together with our great fishing. farming and manufacturing interests, and certain early completion of already projected works of improvement for putting in nearer, cheaper and easier communication with the Ocean, will render this one of the most important commercial, and manufacturing points on the Southern country.

A Steam Saw and Grist Mill in the town of Nixonton 8 miles from E. City. This Mill has a fine wharf and store attached on deep navigable water, the engine is 40 horse power, and all in good order. It is one of the finest locations to be found any where for custom work, and for getting good saw logs easily and cheaply. Price $4,000 cash.

Adjoining the mill property is 40 acres of fine land on the River, with three houses. all for $1200. Near the same is a good two story dwelling and 13 acres of land for $2,000, and a good one story dwelling, with one acre of land for $300.

Also two fine farms in Pasquotauk county, 10 miles from E. City, within half mile of church. school house and post office. One tract contains about 400 acres, with fair buildings and mostly cleared, and the other contains 300 acres, with good two story dwelling, large barn, and other outhouses, both are offered at $20 per acre, one third cash, balance in one and two years.

Also one other tract in Pasquotank county, containing 116 acres, within one mile of the town with fine buildings, mostly cleared and in cultivation. Price $25 per acre, one half cash, balance in 12 months.

A valuable site for a hotel at Nag's Head, 40 miles from Elizabeth City, and 50 miles from Edenton. This is situated immediately on the Ocean, and is a famous Summer resort for invalids, and those seeking health, comfort, and amusements during the summer months. It is in direct communication by steamboats and railroad with all parts of North Carolina, Virginia, and the North; and is equal in natural advantages to Newport, or Cape May. Visitors flock to this famous summer resort by hundreds and thousands, and a large amount of money can be made by a hotel. A charter has been obtained from the Legislature of N. C., for a joint stock company to build the hotel. There is now an old hotel on the spot, which could be cheaply repaired and bought for $3,000. This hotel, though imperfectly kept, cleared the proprietor last season, over $3,000. For a man or a company, having some capital, this is one of the finest chances to make money at hotel keeping to be found anywhere. The early attention of the public is invited to this property.

A fine steam saw and grist mill at Hertford, the county seat of Perquimans County, N. C., 18 miles from Elizabeth City. This mill has a fifty horse power engine, now in good running, two pairs of best French burr stones, and two upright saws. The house has a brick basement, and the building is large and in good order. There is one and a half acres of land belonging to this property, and a good two story dwelling, and other out-houses. The section of country adjacent abounds in the finest yellow pine, cypress, ash, poplar, and other valuable timber. This property originally cost $15.000, and is now offered at forced sale for the low price of $2.500, $7.00, cash, and the balance in six equal instalments, six months apart each with interest.

A fine farm and fishery in same county. The farm contains 400 acres of the finest land, lies immediately on Albemarle Sound where the water is 12 miles wide, and 18 to 20 feet deep, has got buildings, and fine neighborhood. The fishery is on the farm and goes with it. It has a new seine 2,500 yards long, and all the necessary boats, buildings, &c., (which cost over $15,000 two years ago.) The fishery alone, of a good season, will make from 5 to $10,000 profit to the owner. This property is offered at forced sale for the low price of $20,000, $7,000 cash, balance on easy times.

A store at South Mills, in Camden county, 20 miles from E. City, and 20 miles from Norfolk, lying on the canal where steamers pass daily. A fine chance for merchandize. Store is large with dwelling above containing six rooms, is in first rate order, has office, kitchen, dairy, and other necessary outhouses. Goods to the amt. of $50,000 per annum can be sold here, and at large profits. A splended stand for a country retail store. Price $2,500—one third cash, balance in one and two years.

A valuable tract of land in Camden county, at South Mills, on the Dismal Swamp Canal, lying on the canal for two miles, containing over 900 acres of land—two-thirds cleared, and in a fine state of cultivation, with good buildings, &c.; balance in valuable timber. Price $12,000, one-third cash, balance in one and two years, interest from January, 1871. This is a valuable farm for corn, wheat, and vegetables, and being midway between Elizabeth City and Norfolk, and located where steamers pass by the door daily, is a desirable and cheap property.

A fine farm of 600 acres within six miles of E. City, one mile from navigable water, and the best cotton farm in the State. It is also well adapted to raising corn and wheat. This farm has a splended two-story dwelling upon it, large barn, 40 by 60 feet, a large number of outhouses, by splended trees and shrubbery, is in a strong Union neighborhood, and altogether the most desirable place in the county. A little over one-half of this land is cleared, and the balance is covered with the finest yellow pine, poplar, ash and other timber. Price $30 per acre—one-third cash, balance in one and two years with interest. Title reserved.

A valuable small farm ¾ of a mile from E. City, containing about 47 acres all cleared but about 6 acres, and in a good state of improvement. Lies high, well drained, medium buildings, a good well of water. A very desirable property. Price $50 per acre in payments. Possession given Jan'y. 1st 1871.

Sixteen houses and lots in Elizabeth City, with good dwellings, out-houses, &c. Prices and terms reasonable.

A valuable farm in Perquimans county, N. C. near navigable water. Has a fine dwelling-house with ten rooms, in splended order, with splended barns and stables—all in first rate order. The farm is very productive in corn, oats, wheat, cotton and clover. It is one of the finest farms in the State and is now in good cultivation, contains 585 acres of land, about three-fourths cleared and under cultivation. Price $10,000, one-third cash January 1, next. balance in two equal annual instalments with interest at the rate of six per cent.

A farm of 370 acres 8 miles from town by water, and 12 miles by land, is offered for sale for $10,000 in easy payments. This tract of land lies immediately on the River which is 4 miles wide and washes the farm its whole length on one side, and a branch of the River one mile wide, binds it on one end. The land is well adapted to raising corn, wheat, cotton, oats, peas, &c., lies high and dry, and is susceptible of the highest improvement. Fronting and looking over, as it does, two large sheets of navigable water, where steamers and sailing vessels are constantly passing, carrying freight and passengers to all parts of the country, its location and surroundings, are of the most fascinating and desirable character. There is a fishery on it ready for working a seine 2,500 yards long, and which commands a portion of both streams of water, and can be made immensely profitable. The price charged is low, and the purchase a very desirable one. The buildings consist of a good two-story dwelling and out-houses.

A tract of valuable land, containing 356 acres, with fine two story dwelling containing 9 rooms and cook-room. Servant's house with 3 rooms, large barns and stables, all necessary and convenient out-houses, 3 tenant-houses near town, and immediately on the River. About 100 acres of this land is in fine wood and timber, balance in a fine state of cultivation. It has 8,000 grape vines one year old, 3,500 peach, apple and dwarf pear trees, five acres in strawberries which yielded an immence profit this year, ten acres in Lawton and other rare varieties of black-berries, 15 to 20,000 young peach trees with other choice fruits too numerous to mention. This farm has a public road on one side, and the River on the other, where strangers come daily to the landings to receive the fruits and vegetables, and carry them down to Norfolk, Baltimore, Phila., or New York. The land is finely adapted to raising corn, wheat, cotton, oats, and all other field crops.

The owner of this farm offers to sell in tracts, to suit purchasers, say in 50 to 100 acre tracts, and at prices ranging from 35 to $80 per acre, according to location, buildings, &c.

There is also on this farm a fine fishery, where a seine 1,000 yards long, and 20 feet deep is hauled every Spring. Herring, Shad, Rock-fish, Sturgeon and other valuable fish, are caught by thousands at every draw of the seine. And the profits are frequently large. This fishery of itself is worth nearly as much as is charged for the whole property. The terms will be liberal. This is probably the finest opportunity offered any where for a profitable investment.

☞ Fishery has an office, and two houses for hands besides fish house. Then some 500 to 1,000 loads of best fish manure on hand, besides over 5,000 loads of compost made ready for use. This goes with the farm.

A desirable house and lot in the town of Elizabeth City on the corner of two principal streets, the principal one, and situated in the best business locality in the town. The lot contains about two acres of land, and the buildings consist of a fair dwelling three stories high, containing eight rooms, all in good order, another two story building with four rooms and pantries, dairy, smokehouses, stables, &c. The dwelling has a good cellar under it. There is room on the front lot to erect two good stores, and they would occupy the best stand in the town for merchandize.

Another valuable tract of land in Pasquotank county one mile from the town, on the river, and containing 156 acres. Good dwelling house and other outbuildings. Land fine. About 120 acres cleared, balance in wood and timber. This farm is surrounded by parties from the North who have purchased all the land adjoining. Price $35,00 per acre, one half cash, balance in 12 and 18 months with interest.

HENRY T. HELMBOLD'S

COMPOUND FLUID.

EXTRACT CATAWBA.

GRAPE PILLS.

Component Parts—Fluid Extract Rhubarb and Fluid Extract Catawba Grape Juice.

For Liver complaints, Jaundice, Bilious affections, Sick or Nervous Headache, Costiveness, etc. Purely Vegetable, containing no Mercury, Minerals or deleterious drugs.

H

These Pills are the most delightfully pleasant purgative, superseding castor oil, salts, magnesia, etc. There is nothing more acceptable to the stomach. They give tone, and cause neither nausea nor griping pains. They are composed of the finest ingredients. After a few day's use of them, such an invigoration of the entire system takes place as to appear miraculous to the weak and enervated, whether arising from imprudence or disease. H. T. Helmbold's Compound Fluid Extract Catawba Grape Pills are not sugar-coated, from the fact that sugar-coated Pills do not dissolve, but pass through the stomach without dissolving, consequently do not produce the desired effect. The Catawba Grape Pills, being pleasant in taste and odor, do not necessitate their being sugar-coated. Price Fifty Cents per Box.

E

HIGHLY CONCENTRATED COMPOUND

FLUID EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA

Will radically exterminate from the system Scrofula, Syphilis, Fever Sores, Ulcers, Sore Eyes, Sore Legs, Sore Mouth, Sore Head, Bronchitis, Skin Diseases, Salt Rheum, Cankers, Runnings from the Ear, White Swellings, Tumors, Cancerous Affeesions, Nodes, Rickets, Glandular Swellings, Night Sweats, Rash, Tetter, Humors of all Kinds, Chronic Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, and all diseases that have been established in the system for years.

L

Being prepared expressly for the above complaints, its blood-purifying properties are greater than any other preparation of sarsaparilla. It gives the complexion a clear and healthy color and restores the patient to a state of health and purity. For purifying the blood, removing all chronic constitutional diseases arising from an impure state of the blood. And the only reliable and effectual known remedy for the cure of pain and swelling of the bones, ulcerations of the throat and legs, blotches, pimples on the face, erysipelas and all scaly eruptions of the skin, and beautifying the complexion. Price, $1 50 per bottle.

M

HENRY T. HELMBOLD'S

CONCENTRATED

FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,

THE GREAT DIURETIC,

has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given, Irritation of the neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urin, diseases of the Prostate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-dust Deposit, and Mucus or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: indisposition to exertion, loss of power, loss of memory, difficulty of breathing, weak nerves, trembling, horror of disease, wakefulness, dimness of vision, pain in the back, hot hands, flushing of the body, dryness of the skin, eruption on the face, pallid countenance, universal lasitude of the muscular system, etc.

Used by persons from the ages of eighteen to twenty-five, and from thirty-five to fifty-five or in the decline or change of life after confinement or labor pains; bed-wetting in children.

B

Helmbold's Extract Buchu is Diuretic and blood-purifying, and cures all diseases arising from habits of dissipation, and excesses and imprudences in life, impurities of the blood, etc., superceding copabia in affections for which it is used, and syphilitic affections—In these diseases used in connection with Helmbold's Rose Wash.

LADIES.

In many affections peculiar to ladies, the extract buhlu is unequaled by any other remedy—as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrus state of the Uterus, Leucorrhœa or Whites, Sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from indiscretion or habits of dissipation. It is prascribed extensively by the most eminent physicians and midwives for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexs and all ages (attended with any of the above diseases or symptoms) in all their stages, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience, and no exposure. It causes a frequent desire, and gives strength to Urinate, thereby removing obstructions, preventing and curing Strictures of the Urethra, allaying pain and inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all poisonous matter.

O

Thousands who have been the victims of incompetent persons, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they have been deceived, and that the "Poison" has, by the use of "powerful astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in a more agravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

Use Helmbold's Extract Buchu for all affections and diseases of the Urinary Organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. Price One Dollar and Fifty Cents per Bottle.

L

Henry T. Helmbold's Improved Rose Wash

cannot be surpassed as a Face Wash, and will be found the only specific remedy in every species of cutaneous affection. It speedily eradicates pimples, spots, scorbutic dryness, indurations of the cutaneous membrane, etc., dispels redness and incipient Inflammation, Hives, Rash, Moth Patches, dryness of Scalp or Skin, Frost Bites, and all purposes for which Salves or Ointments are used: restores the skin to a state of purity and softness, and insures continued healthy action to the tissue of its vessels, on which depends the agreeable clearness and vivacity of complexion so much sought and admired. But however valuable as a remedy for existing defects of the skin, H. T. Helmbolt's Rose Wash has long sustained its principle claim to unbounded patronage, by possessing qualities which render it a Toilet Appendage of the most Superlative and Congenial character, combining in an elegant formula those prominent requisites, Safety and Efficacy—the invartable accompaniments of its use—as a Preservative and Refresher of the complexion. It is an excellent Lotion for diseases of a Syphilitic Nature, and as an injection for diseases of the Urinary Organs, arising from habits of dissipation, used in connection with the Extracts Buchu, Sarsaparilla, and Catawba Grape Pills, in such diseases as recommended, cannot be surpassed. Price One Dollar per bottle.

DOUBLE REFINED POUDRETTE

OF THE

"LODI MANUFACTURING CO."

For sale in lots to suit customers. This article is sold for half the price of other fertilizers, and is cheaper for Cotton, Corn, Tobacco and Vegetables, than any other in the market. It is made entirely from the night soil, offal, &c., of New York City.

Price, delivered on board in New York City. Twenty-five Dollars per Ton.

Read the following Testimonials:

Jacob Joyner, Esq., of Greenville, N. C., under date of October 25th, 1870, says: "The Poudrette I purchased of you last spring, I used on Corn, and from results, I am satisfied it is the cheapest and best fertilizer we can use in this section."

David W. Gaskill, of Washington, N. C., under date of Nov. 4th, 1870, says: "I used your Double Refined Poudrette on Cotton in the same way (in the drill, side by side with Peruvian Guano, the Poudrette in one row and the Guano in the next, and I pronounce it superior to the Guano. In the spring the rows where I used the Guane looked the best, but in June and July the Poudrette showed itself, and my neighbors who have seen it pronounce it equal to Guano, and I think, they will unite with me in using it another year."

James R. Wilder, of Franklinton, N. C., says in letter dated Sept. 23d, 1870: "I used the Double Refined Poudrette on Cotton, and it will, without a doubt, make more than a 56 Guano, which has a great reputation as a Cotton Manure. The Nitro-Phosphate I used on Cotton Sweet Potatoes and garden truck. all of which did exceedingly well.

J. J. Rollins, of Pactalus, N. C., under date of October 2 9th, 1870, says: "I believe the Double Refined Poudrette and Bone Dust are all they are recommended to be. I used the Poudrette on Corn, and although the season has been very unfavorable for all kinds of fertilizers on my sandy soil. I was perfectly satisfied, and believe it the cheapest fertilizer we can use."

J. A. J. Askew, of Colerain, N. C., in a letter dated September 16th, 1870, says: "I let several planters have some of the "Double Refined Poudrette." One says he wants 5 tons next season to put under Corn. I used 4 tons on Corn, and although the season was unfavorable it astonished every one who saw it. I think it the best fertilizer for Corn I ever saw."
